CHINCHPOOGLY, BOMBAY.

SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT in Gynæcological cases, Uteri diseases, Obstetrics, and all Diseases peculiar to Females.

Has had 19 years' practical experience in most intricate and difficult cases, all of which have been successfully treated.

Having in that branch of my professional duties, to which I have more especially devoted my attention, treated some hundreds of cases with the utmost success both in Obstetrics and Gynæcology in every feature of disease, I am in a position to confidently offer the public my services with a certainty of success in each ailment.

I am aware that I am indebted to numerous patients for their friendly wishes and recommendations to such I take this opportunity of tendering my thanks again, assuring them of my continued devotion to the interests of those who may favor me with their confidence.

AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT
(By Kind Permission.)

I have much pleasure in giving Mrs. Bond a certificate and can confidently recommend her to any Lady requiring a thoroughly practical and experienced Nurse. She has been with me in conjunction with Dr. . . . through a very critical illness and thanks to her care and constant attendance I have got safely over it. Indeed, she has been more like a mother to me than a Nurse, and I shall never forget her wherever I may be. The Doctor's opinion coincided exactly with hers in regard to my illness, and I consider her thoroughly qualified to conduct any case without the aid of a medical man, and trust that the Ladies of Bombay will prove her worth as I have done.

BORING CHILDREN'S EARS.—On Saturday morning, Dr. Thomas Blaney, the Coroner, held an inquest, touching the death of a Hindu girl, named Ladoobai, aged eleven years, who died from tetanus following the boring of her ears for the purpose of inserting earrings. The mother of the deceased and her brother depose that the ears of the deceased were bored about fifteen days ago, and bits of stick inserted in the holes. The girl appeared to be none the worse for the operation till about three days ago, when spasms set in and continued till her death, which occurred on Friday. The jury returned an unanimous verdict that the cause of death was tetanus, following the boring of the deceased's ears for the purpose of inserting earrings.

HOUSE-BREAKING BY NIGHT AND THEFT.—At the Girgaum Police Court, on Saturday, before Mr. P.H. Dastur, Oomer Ebrahim, was charged by Rahim Khan Assun with the above offence. The complainant and accused occupied two different rooms in a chawl, in Arab Gully, and during the absence of complainant from home on the evening of the 2nd instant, the accused effected an entrance into the other's room by removing some iron bars from a window at the back of the house, and stole wearing apparel, a set of silver buttons, valued at Rs. 17-14 and Rs. 4-13 in cash. The accused was arrested at Pydhownee by a policeman on suspicion, when he admitted his guilt. The Magistrate convicted and sentenced him to suffer six months' rigorous imprisonment.

CRIMINAL TRESPASS.—A Goanese, named Antonio Francisco, was charged by a fellow-countryman, a cook, named Salvador, on Saturday, before Mr. P. H. Dastur, at the Girgaum Police Court, with having criminally trespassed into his house, in Gilder Street, on Saturday morning. The accused entered complainant's house, and made his way to the bed on which the complainant's daughter, a girl of sixteen years of age, lay asleep, and placed his hand on her, at which she startled up and raised an alarm. The police soon arrived, and took the accused into custody. The accused in his defence said that he entered the house at the express invitation of the complainant's daughter, but he failed to substantiate his statement, and was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 20, in default to undergo two months' rigorous imprisonment.

MR. MANCHERJEE BANAJEE GOLD MEDAL.—At the solemnization of the late Mr. Mancherjee Nowrojee Banajee's funeral obsequies, a sum of upwards of Rs. 14,000 was subscribed by his relatives and friends for various benefactions. Out of this fund, Rs. 5,000 have been forwarded by the executors of his last will to the University authorities, with a request that a gold medal may be struck, and annually presented to the best Parsee graduate, who successfully passes his final LL.B. Examination, with at least fifty per cent. marks. If the University authorities so choose, a scholarship of the value of Rs. 200 a year in the name of Mr. Banaji may be awarded to the student, instead of a gold medal. The proposal will be submitted to the Senate at their next meeting. The friends of the deceased gentleman, it is believed, would prefer a gold medal to a scholarship.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES AT UPPER MAHIM.—The following report was submitted by the Rev. Fr. M. F. Pereira, S.P., at the prize-distribution of St. Michael's Parish School, on Saturday.—"We close the scholastical year with forty-six pupils on the roll against fifty last year, chiefly East Indians and a sprinkling of Goanese boys and girls. The conduct of the pupils has, on the whole been satisfactory. The education is imparted up to the III. Standard ; and as the pupils of the III. Standard leave for S. F. Xavier's, Stanislaus', and John's for higher study, no further standard is for the present required. The list of all the three classes has been satisfactory. The Portuguese class has six pupils, who are taught reading and catechism. The best thanks of the parish is due to the hard-working and indefatigable Vicar, under whose benevolent personal vigilance the school is conducted, also to his assistant Rev. Rozario D'Souza and to Mr. Miranda the school master.

ANOTHER DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE.—Dr. Thomas Blaney, the Coroner, held an enquiry on Sunday morning at Dockyard Road, Mazagon, touching the death of a European, named William Abbott, aged 50 years, lately employed as a stevedore's foreman. The deceased had been ailing for the past six weeks with cough and difficulty of breathing, and had attended the European General Hospital. He was in his usual state of health on Saturday, and went to the docks at 4 p.m. for his wages, returning home immediately afterwards. He ate his dinner at 8 p.m. and retired about half-an-hour afterwards. He had been in bed about an hour when he awoke feeling a severe pain in the chest, accompanied with difficulty of breathing and cough. He expired a few minutes later. Dr. Sidney Smith, Surgeon to the Coroner, examined the body and was of opinion that the cause of death was heart disease. The jury accordingly on the evidence returned a unanimous verdict that heart disease was the cause of death.

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE.—The Coroner, Dr. Thomas Blaney, held an inquest, on Saturday evening at the morgue, on the body of a Goanese woman named Monica, the wife of a cook, who worked on boardship. The deceased came from Goa about two and a-half months ago and put up at Mahim with a relative. Five days ago she got fever, from which she recovered after three days, but remained very weak. Early on Saturday morning she was taken to the Elphinstone Road Station for being brought down to Bombay to get her admitted into the Cama Obstetric Hospital. She and a relative left the train at Marine Line Station and drove in a victoria to the place where deceased's husband usually stayed, when his vessel was in port. On arriving there deceased fainted in the victoria, and almost immediately after expired. Information was at once conveyed to Inspector Saunders of the Dhobi Talao Police Station, who ordered the deceased to be removed to the morgue. The jury upon the evidence returned a unanimous verdict to the effect that the cause of death was heart disease.

SUICIDE BY DROWNING.—The Coroner, Dr. Thomas Blaney, held an enquiry, on Saturday, at Naigaum Road, Dadur, touching the death of a Parsee, named Byramjee Heerjibhoy, aged about 60 years, who committed suicide, on Friday evening, by drowning himself in a well at Dadur while in an unsound state of mind. The deceased had formerly been a toddy-seller, and lately lived at Matoonga, on charity. He was addicted to drink, and was in the habit of wandering aimlessly about the streets. A toddy-seller, named Bana Moorar, deposed that he was up a tree drawing toddy, on the Naigaum Road, at dusk, on Friday, when he heard a splash in a well about twenty paces from the tree. He descended the tree and approached the well, but could not see anything in it. He saw some clothes on the wall of the well, which he recognised as belonging to the deceased. The police shortly afterwards arrived and took charge of the clothing, shoes, etc., of the deceased. The police had the well dragged and recovered the body about 9 p. m. Life was extinct. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased met his death by drowning himself in a well whilst in an unsound state of mind.

A HUSBAND PROSECUTES HIS WIFE.—At the Esplanade Police Courts, on Saturday, before Mr. C. P. Cooper Chief Presidency Magistrate, Inay[illegible] charged a Kathiawaree Mahomedan woma[illegible] with the theft of property, valued at [illegible] her husband, Nicarabi Amerabi, a Pathan, [illegible] Bhownugger. The accused, it was stated, was [illegible] Azimgad, but was at present residing in Be[illegible] Bombay, and was alleged to have deprived her husb[illegible] of certain articles of female attire, collectively valued of the above sum. The property was stolen in September last. In consequence of the offence the Durbar made an official representation to Captain J. S. Ashby, Assistant Political Agent, who in turn communicated with Sir E. C. K. Ollivant, the Political Agent in Kathiawar. The latter eventually referred the case to the police authorities in this City and the presence of Salima was discovered. The inquiries of the prosecuting officer revealed the fact that her husband had repudiated his marriage with her, and subsequently charged her brother with enticing her to Bombay for unlawful purpose. After arriving in this city, Salima, it is alleged, contracted a nika marriage with a Mahomedan, and when she appeared before the Magistrate for the offence she was enlarged on bail in the sum of Rs. 500 and a surety for the same amount. Enquiries are proceeding at Bhownugger, and it is expected a prima facie case will be made out against her regarding the property found with her, and on the receipt of the documentary evidence from that city the accused will be sent there for trial.

ALLEGED CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST.

AT the Esplanade Police Court, on Saturday afternoon, Fritz Rufener appeared before Mr. C. P. Cooper to answer a charge of criminal breach of trust and criminal misappropriation in respect of certain goods entrusted to him by Mr. Albert Fetterle for sale on commission on the 15th of June last. Mr. Payne, of Messrs. Payne, Gilbert, and Sayani, appeared for the prosecution. Mr. De Souza, pleader, defended the accused.

The complainant is a wholesale dealer in gold and silver watches, carrying on the business under the name of A. Fetterle and Co., at Hornby Row. The accused was formerly in the service of the complainant, who entrusted to him gold and silver watches and other goods, valued at Rs. 9,208 for sale on commission. The accused went to Singapore, where he was to sell the watches. From Singapore the accused went to Hongkong. He sold property valued at Rs. 2,000, but failed to remit the proceeds realised by the sale. The complainant wrote to the accused to remit the money, but he did not do so, and came to Bombay in September last. As he failed to return the goods, the present charge was preferred, and a warrant obtained for the apprehension of the accused, who was arrested and placed before the Magistrate, on the 27th ultimo, but after the accused had been identified by the complainant, the case was adjourned until Saturday, the accused being admitted to bail.

In laying the facts of the case before his Worship, Mr. Payne said that the accused was in the employ of the complainant until June last. He then wanted to go to Singapore and Hongkong with a friend, named Shapieri. He told the complainant that there was a good opening at Singapore for the sale of gold and silver watches, and he made a proposal to the effect that the complainant should entrust some of his goods to Shapieri for sale at Singapore. The complainant agreed to entrust the goods to the accused, and not to Shapieri. An agreement was then passed between the parties. The accused was to receive the whole profit realised by the sale of the goods, but he undertook to remit the proceeds to the complainant as soon as the watches were sold. They were to be sold for cash, and not on credit. The accused wrote to the complainant from Hongkong that he had spent Rs. 2,000, the price of the watches sold by him. The complainant sent a telegram to the accused, asking him to come down to Bombay. He came by the s. s. Bisagno. Before he started he had informed the complainant that he would start by the s.s. Biagno for Bombay. When the vessel arrived here, the complainant went on boardship, when the captain informed him that the accused had sold to him a number of watches, which he promised to return if the complainant paid him the money, which he had given to the accused. The complainant paid Rs. 915 to the captain, and received the gold and silver watches. He then found that property valued at Rs. 2,000 was still missing, and he asked the accused to pay for the property, which was not forthcoming. The accused failed to do so, and said that he had appropriated the money to this own use.

The complainant, in his examination by Mr. Payne, detailed the above facts. The case was adjourned until Tuesday, the 18th instant, at 3 p. m.

TO CORRECT THE LIVER, is in Tropical climates the best medical advice that can be given for avoiding this, what better remedy is there for the purpose than FOTHERGILL'S MADONAL, Rs. 1-8 and 2-8.—MADON, SONS & CO., Fort, Bombay.

A DISHONEST POSTAL PEON.

AT the Esplanade Police Court, on Saturday, Inspector Roberts charged Abdool Razak, a postal peon, before Mr. Cooper, with the theft of the half of a currency note for Rs. 10. The accused had been in the postal service for about twelve years, in the Girgaum division. Several complaints were addressed to the Postmaster about the non-delivery of letters. While the accused sorted the letters of different divisions, he threw in any letters, which he suspected to contain currency notes in his own lor. Nobody suspected him of the theft, and as the thief could not be found the postal peons were transferred and the accused was brought to the head office. On the 11th of June last, Padamjee Shapoorjee forwarded a letter from Shahabad to Bai Ruttanbai, at Fort, Bombay. The letter which contained two half pieces of two currency notes for Rs. 10, was not delivered to Rattanbai. On the 17th of June last, another letter containing half pieces of currency notes was forwarded by Postanjee Cowasjee from Sholapore. That letter had also been found missing. On the 30th of June last, a third letter written by Dadabhoy Jeejeebhoy from Narsingpore to a Parsee lady in Bombay, was also missing. This letter also contained half pieces of currency notes. The accused appropriated those pieces which made up the whole notes, but there were two halves of different notes which did not make up a whole. The accused placed the halves in the letter sent from Shahabad on the 11th June, and delivered them to Ruttanbai who forwarded a complaint to the Post Master. Superintendent Browin and Inspector Roberts were informed about the matter and requested to trace th offender. When the accused was arrested, he passed off two notes one for Rs. 5 and another for Rs. 10 to a postal peon. The case stands adjourned.

THE WORLD'S WOMAN'S UNION.

A LARGE and enthusiastic meeting was held in the High School-Room Hall, at Sholapur, when Miss Pash lectured to an interested audience on What Women are doing for the temperance movement and the education of women. This Nineteenth Century, she said, was called the Woman's Century, as women were now rising up everywhere to advance the good of humanity. Mr. Tagore, Judge, presided at the meeting. He was accompanied by his accomplished wife and daughter. The Rev. Mr. Harding was asked to speak. He urged on the necessity of the advancement of women—the women of India—the doing away with early marriages—infant marriage—as the young wife was then unable to go on with her schooling. Mrs. Gostling wished it understood that there was no desire to alter the marriage laws of India as regards infant marriage or betrothal, but only the laws as to the age of the consummation of marriage.

Mr. Nagarkar, referring on the difficulties that beset progress in a long and eloquent address, said, one of the greatest stumbling blocks were the grandmothers of the household, and very little good could be expected under such domestic conditions. One of the lady speakers said that there was hope as the grandmothers would not live for ever, and the important point was to educate the girls of the present generation who would be the future grandmothers.

During the afternoon they visited the Municipal Girls' School, Miss Pash had an opportunity there to say a little to the girls by way of encouraging their desire for education ; she also spoke of need of the women of every household to advocate temperance. All this was interpreted into Marathi, by Mrs. Gates. There were about 80 girls present out of an average of 120. No announcement had been made to the school of the intended visit, so that the above attendance shows up well. The girls were much interested in what was said.

A preliminary meeting and committee of fourteen ladies and gentlemen have been formed to discuss and form a company for starting girls' schools in connection with a central board in England or America.

The Mallapa Warad Saheb of Sholapore, along with Mr. Nagpurkar, did all in their power to make Miss Pash and Mrs. Gostling's visit useful as well as pleasant. The interest evinced in both Poona and Sholapore in the cause of education was more than was anticipated by the ladies.

BOMBAY VOLUNTEER ARTILLERY.

BOTH companies of the Volunteer Artillery paraded at the Municipal Offices, on Saturday evening, and proceeded by train to Sassoon Dock, from whence they marched to Pilot Bunder to commence the annual gun target practice. Three detachments were formed under Sergeants Marsland, Carter, and Hyde. The first day's practice comprised five plugged and two filled shells from the forty-pounders and three plugged and two filled shells from the 6-3" howitzers. The targets were moved at a distance of between 1,500 and 2,000 yards. The shooting was fair, considering a heavy mist and the fast approach of dusk, which prevented the full number of rounds being fired.

Captain Morris, R. A., watched the firing, Captain Leslie, and Lieutenants J. Sander Slater, Barrow, and Pennie were the officers on parade.

SMALL CAUSES COURT.

(Before Mr. C. W. CHITTY, Chief Judge.)

RENT OF A BUNGALOW AT MATHERAN.

P. BYRMAJEE VS. HORMUSJEE ARDESHIR WADIA.

THE plaintiff, who is a house-agent, sued to recover from the defendant the sum of Rs. 735, being the rent of a bungalow situated at Matheran, and let to the defandant from the 19th April to the 15th June last. Mr. Rivett-Carnac appeared for the plaintiff, Mr. Ghandi, solicitor, appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Ghandi denied his client's liability and disputed the contract. He submitted that the understanding with the plaintiff was that the defendant should get the immediate possession of the bungalow, which ought to be in an inhabitable state. The bungalow was in an uninhabitable state. Even if there was a contract, the plaintiff could not enforce it, as he had acted only as an agent.

His Honour passed a decree in favour of the plaintiff for the amount claimed with costs.

MR. MUNDELLA and the members of the section of the Labour Commission over which he presides became quite excited the other day over the graphic description given by a witness named Mr. Greenwood of the conditions under which the bottle-makers of Yorkshire work—the fiery furnaces, the melting atmosphere, the men hovering about in the dim red light like goblins around a cauldron. "In fact," he cried at last, "its just like Dantes 'Inferno.'" Mr. Mundella inquired whether the witness had any acquaintance with the regions described by the grim Italian "Aye, that I have," replied Mr. Greenwood ; "a little." But if the Inferno be taken to represent the condition of the bottle-making business in the North of England, the word Arcadia best describes the same trade as carried on in the Dutch town of Delt. There the bottle-makers live the lives of gentlemen, work in charming gardens, and fill up their spare moments between bottle-blowing by drinking largerbeer and eating Dutch cheese. They were better paid and worked less hours.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, DEC. 3.

A DECLINE of 1-16d. took place again yesterday in the price of Bar Silver in London, at 39¼d. per oz. ; and four per cent. Rupee Securities receded ½ per cent, say to £65⅜ ; while, in New York, the metal was ⅝ cent lower, at 85⅝ cents per oz., with demand Exchange on London unaltered, at 4·88 dollars. The United States Treasury bought yesterday, 390,000 ounces of Silver, at 85·50 to 85·57 cents per oz. Consols and Indian Sterling Loan were still quoted in London at 97, and 108½, respectively, both ex dividend. The market rates of discount were unaltered. The weekly shipments of Specie to India consisted of £170,000 in Silver, and £10,000 in Gold, all for Bombay. The Exchange Banks' buying rate on India, at 30 days' sight, remained at 1s. 2¾d. French Rentes in Paris were ¼ per cent. higher, at 99 ; Paris Exchange on London was a shade lower, at frcs. 25·14½.

To-day, a further drop of ¼d. has taken place in Silver in London, making the price 39d per oz. ; but, from New York, the metal comes unchanged in value, though Exchange on London has declined ¼ cent, to 4·87⅞ dollars. The London Stock Exchange quotations usually wired show no change ; but the market rates of discount have been put down ⅛ per cent, say to 2⅛ on short London Bills, and 2⅜ on six months' sight Indian Bank Paper. The Exchange Banks' buying rate on India has been reduced ¼d., making it stand at 1s. 2¾d. Rentes, in Paris, are again ¼ per cent. higher, at 99½ cents ; Paris Exchange on London is again a trifle easier, at frcs. 25·14.

The Wheat and Linseed markets were unchanged yesterday. The total quantity of Wheat afloat for the United Kingdom was 1,290,000 quarters, 60,000 quarters more than was upon the water a week ago.

Thursday's advance of 1-16d. in the price of spot Mid.-American Cotton in Liverpool was lost yesterday, the price returning to 5¼d. per lb. ; while Arrivals were lower to the same extent, in all positions, the extreme quotations being 4 31-32d. for December-January deliveries, and 5¼d. for April-May. Surats were unchanged in value ; but "Fair Brown" Egyptain were 1-16d. lower, at 5¼d. per lb. The market closed quiet ; Surats in favour of buyers ; and Arrivals dull ; the day's Sales having aggregated 8,000 bales, without any East Indians. The day's Imports were 19,000 bales. The Manchester Market was firm.

A further decline of 1-16d. has been established to-day in the price of ready Mid.-Americans, at 5 1-16d. per lb. ; while Arrivals have further receded 3-64d. in all positions, but quotations for Surats and Egyptians were unaltered. The market closed quiet again this afternoon ; Surats flat ; and Arrivals dull ; with total sales, 5,000 bales ; and Imports 16,000 bales.

The week's Sales of Cotton in Liverpool again show a material falling off compared with those in the week preceding, having been 16,000 bales less, at 61,000 bales (including 2,000 East Indians) ; but the amount forwarded to consumers was only 1,000 bales less at 68,000 bales. The week's Imports were 98,000 bales more, at 187,000 bales. The total stock had increased by 105,000 bales, making it 265,000 bales heavier than at the same time last year, and 498,000 balee more than in 1890. The stock of Surats was 2,000 bales less than at the end of last week, at 21,000 bales. The total Visible Supply had increased during the week by 170,000 bales ; but of East Indian Cotton there were 3,000 bales less in sight ; and the figures which we gave below for comparison show, in the total Supply for all Europe a decrease of 120,000 bales as against those for last year, and an increase of 899,000 bales compared with those for the year before ; and in East Indian Cotton, a decrease of 31,000 bales, and 208,000 bales, respectively. The price of spot American Cotton in Liverpool declined ⅛d. per lb. during the week, and Arrivals 7-32d. ; and the former was yesterday 13-16d. higher than on the corresponding day last year, but 1-16 lower than in 1890.

In New York, there was a further decline of ⅛ cent in spot Mid.-Uplands at 9⅜ cents per lb., yesterday ; and March Futures were 25 points lower at 9·41 cents. The Receipts of the U. S. Ports were 48,000 bales, making the week's total larger than in each of the two previous years ; the total falling off shown compared with last season and the season before being 1,011,000 bales, and 706,000 bales, respectively.

To-day there has been no further change in the spot price of Cotton in New York ; but Futures, for March, have recovered 7 points of the previous decline, at 9·84 cents. The Receipts of the Ports are 37,000 bales, going against 35,000 bales last year, and 37,900 bales the year before. The Cotton in sight was 3,570,000 bales compared with 3,190,000 bales at the close of last week.

In our local Cotton Market, business continues to be on a very small scale, and a further decline of Rs. 2 to 3 per candy in prices has taken place to-day, the feeling, however, being steady. Exporters have bought 350 bales of ready new Cotton, say, 150 Khangaum, at Rs. 222 ; and 100 each of Dhulia, at Rs. 202½ ; and Bengals, at Rs. 201, while the Mills have taken 200 new Dhulia, at Rs. 200½ ; and 100 old Bhownugge, at Rs. 203½ per candy, the total purchasers having thus been only 650 bales.

WHEAT and Seeds have both been quiet markets, with only a small export business passing ; but rates, for all descriptions, are quite unchanged.

Linseed	3,346	"
Rapeseed	5,401	"

Do. Telegraphic	1s. 2 29-32d. "
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 3d. "

GOVERNMENT PAPER has declined ¼ to 3-16 per cent. from last evening's quotations for Fours, say, to 106½ for Money, and 105¼ for Account, which are the closing rates ; but with a steady feeling at the reduction. 102, nominal, is still, quoted for 4½ per Cents.

SHARES are neglected, and the only change in quotations, which we have to note this evening is a decline of Rs. 5 on Mofussil Press Scrip.

The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1892.

BEFORE coming to any conclusion as to the prospects —said to be vanishing—of any practical good resulting from the Brussels Monetary Conference, it will be advisable to wait until we know what occurs after the reassembling of the Conference to-morrow. So far no definite course of action has recommended itself to the Conference or even to any of the Committees; but the interchange of views has given rise to a good deal of suggestion which may eventuate in some improvement of the situation in countries dependent on silver. Mr. Rothschild's proposal that the European Powers should pledge themselves to purchase five millions worth of silver for a period of five (or three) years, has been reported on by a committee as worthy of full discussion. Though seven members of the committee decline to recommend the proposal to their governments, six members approve of it. Apparently in connection with this proposal Sir Guildford Molesworth stated that "if any bimetallic plan" be adopted, India would keep her mints open—a clear intimation that if no such plan be adopted the Indian Mints will be closed to silver. He added that India while reserving her liberty of action will be prepared to purchase or mint silver to the value of fifty millions of rupees annually, while the plan is in operation. On the other hand an American delegate stated that he believed that the United States will discontinue the monthly purchases of silver if the Conference fails to effect an international understanding. Sir Richard Strachey's statement that the difficulties of India are becoming real dangers [illegible] intended to be understood as a notification that the Conferences is abortive, the Government of India will have [illegible] measures for the protection of the interests of this country. That doubtless [illegible] India would close the mints to silver and establish a gold standard. That this was the real purport of his statement is obvious from the fact that he went on to say that in the event of a gold coinage being established in India the Government will regard favourably any system generally approved by the Conference for the rehabilitation of silver, and will endeavour to conform by every reasonable means to the views of the Conference. Mr. Bertram Currie expressly stated that he was instructed not to accept any conditions which would limit the freedom of action of the Government of India in regard to the currency of this country. Nor can he support any proposal that does not promise to be effective or that will require a long period of incubation. Had Mr. Rothschild's proposals been more generally acceptable Mr. Currie would have proposed them to his government. This intimation may influence the Conference during the short recess, and bring further support to the proposal that the European Powers should join America in periodical purchases of silver. Whether that method of dealing with the evil—the superabundance of silver in the market—would be effective, is open to grave doubt. The probability, judging from past experience, is that the enlargement of the market for silver would stimulate production, and lead to the re-opening of mines now closed. It is true that the American and Mexican delegates agree in stating that the maximum of production has been "about" reached ; but they cannot be regarded as disinterested authorities on the future output of silver. The most definite and apparently authoritative pronouncement yet made in the Conference, is the declaration of Mr. Currie, that the monetary system of the future in India should be a gold standard, even without a gold currency. The essential preliminary to a gold standard is the closing of the mints to silver.

THIS afternoon the Corporation will have to consider the appointment of an Executive Engineer to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Rienzi Walton through ill-health. There are two candidates for the post which has fallen vacant. Mr. S. Tomlinson, C.E., is a member of the City Engineering Staff, who was selected in open competition some six years ago by General Tulloch, from among fifty candidates, as the most competent man he could find, and he has since done excellent work for the Municipality. The Khan Bahadur Muncherjee M. Murzban, Executive Engineer under Government, who has done excellent work for the Government, and having received as his reward due promotion in his department, is about to retire under the age rule on a pension. He is a member of the Corporation, of which he was President the year before last. If the question of comparative fitness of rival candidates for the post had been left for the Corporation to determine on the merits, we should here close this reference to the matter with the expression of the hope that the man most competent to discharge with the maximum of energy and zeal the onerous duties of Executive Engineer, on whose capacity and independence so much depends, would be successful. But, unhappily, this cannot be said to be the case. By the partisans of one of the candidates the question is not placed before the members of the Corporation as one of fitness, but of favour. It has been assumed from the first that the influence and not the qualifications of the candidate is to be decisive. The right of the Corporation to decide in the full light of discussion, and after weighing all the considerations which should alone weigh in the discharge of a public duty, has been set aside. We have even heard—everyone in Bombay has heard—with astonishment that the post has been given away in advance before it became vacant. It is openly stated that the appointment has been the subject of some arrangement made "behind the scenes." The Municipal Commissioner has in the most emphatic manner repudiated he allegation that he was a party to any such arrangement, and on the face of it the statement was absurd that he could have been party to a pact of the kind. But the statement that there was a pact, and that any endeavour to get a full recognition of the claim of the public to have the most competent man chosen, irrespective of considerations of private influence has been reiterated. That the engineering staff of the Municipality have a claim to a fair appraisement of their qualifications has been set aside as of no account whatever. It has therefore become incumbent on us to make a distinct and unequivocal protest against the unusual course which has been pursued in this matter, and to ask the Corporation—as we asked that body with good effect when a similar endeavour was made to rush this same appointment though last year—to assert its independence, and refuse to be the plaything of wire-pullers.

It is impossible to understand the true character of the present demarche, without knowing what happened in October, 1891. At that time the question of renewing the appointment of Mr. Rienzi Walton to the post which he had occupied with credit to himself and advantage to the city for a period of some fifteen years, was brought to the notice of the Corporation in a letter from the Municipal Commissioner. Before this question came on in the regular routine, a singular notice of motion was put on the paper. The Corporation was asked to make Mr. Rienzi Walton's appointment, not for the usual period of five years, but for three months and a-half, at the expiration of which period that officer should be appointed Special Executive Engineer for Drainage Works. On the date from which the new appointment was to take effect, namely, the 15th January last, it was proposed that Mr. Muncherjee C. Murzban should be appointed Municipal Executive Engineer for a period of five years. The then Executive Engineer would thus have had the tenure of five years, under which he had hitherto held office, reduced to three months and a-half, and he would have been liable to dismissal at a month's notice from or after the 15th January, while Mr. Murzban would be secured the appointment for the period of five years. Now at that time there was no vacancy at all ; the proposal was to hand over to Mr. Murzban a post which was held by Mr. Rienzi Walton, and to give the latter in return a three months' tenure, and the promise of work on special duty, which might or might not last six weeks. The proposal was brought forward in disregard of the safeguards designed to protect the interests of the ratepayers, with a view to create a new and highly paid appointment without reference to the head of the Executive—who complained that he had not been considered in the matter—or the Standing Committee, without whose sanction no proposal involving an outlay of money can be brought up for disposal by the Corporation. The motion was declared by the President, Mr. George Cotton, to be out of order, and it was withdrawn without debate. As we pointed out at the time it is desirable in the interests of the City that a man of capacity, ripened by experience in the service of the Municipality should not be cavalierly ousted from his appointment so that it may be given to a member of the Corporation. We said then, and we repeat now, that the effect of such an experiment could not fail to be demoralizing to the Municipal Executive, and eventually to the Corporation itself. If the attempt were to succeed in the Engineering Department, the temptation to apply a similar method in the other departments would prove irresistible. "The Corporation," we continued, "instead of seeking for the most capable men to fill important positions, would insensibly become habituated to look upon all posts as prizes to be secured by Councillors with sufficient influence among their colleagues to get them to co-operate on a system of reciprocity. Then we should have in India a Tammany Ring on the New York model. What would stand between Bombay and this most undesirable development, if such a pernicious precedent be once established ? The Government could without doubt put in force the power reserved under the Municipal Act to withhold sanction from the appointment of Health Officer or of an Executive Engineer made under circumstances open to objection. But other appointments would be lawful prize, for no such safeguard exists in respect to them. In the case of the Executive Engineer and head of the Sanitary Department, if the sanction of Government be withheld and the Corporation neglect to fill the vacancy in a suitable manner within thirty days, the right of appointment vests in the Government. As prevention is better than cure, it seems to us reasonable to assume that the success of such a scheme as that which is now on foot would be frustrated at once by the refusal of the Government to confirm the appointment which the Corporation are to be invited to make."

That which we wrote in October last year, it is necessary to repeat now, and with added emphasis, for the attempt which was then abandoned and disavowed, has been again brought forward under even more questionable circumstances. It is audaciously stated, and repeated, that the appointment has been disposed of in a secret arrangement made "behind the scenes." This statement appears to have been made to, and to have misled, the Municipal Commissioner himself, who addressed a letter a month ago to the President stating that he believed it to be the desire of the Corporation, that the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Walton should be filled by the Khan Bahadur Muncherjee Murzban. Indeed so strong was the impression created by whatever representations were made as to the supposed desire of the Corporation that it was added that the gentleman in question had been warned to be in readiness to take over the appointment early in December. When such representations deceived the Commissioner, we can understand how easy it may be to impose on simple members of the Corporation wholly unacquainted with the real facts. The Corporation never expressed but one desire that the extraordinary proposal to put the Khan Bahadur into a place which was not even vacant, should be withdrawn, and having expressed that desire through its President—its only mouthpiece—the motion was allowed to be withdrawn, as a mark of consideration, for the feelings of those concerned, without debate or observation. The Corporation knew absolutely nothing of any pact or arrangement behind the scenes to dispose of an important post in complete forgetfulness of every interest but that of an influential member and his friends. The only sound principle is that promotion in the Municipal service, as in the Government service, shall go in the department. If it should happen, or be seriously alleged, that no one in the department has the necessary qualification, then a competent man should be found—as Mr. Tomlinson was found—by competition in the open market.

THE Tonkin papers are jubilant over the success of recent mining operations in Hongay, the coal found there having been tried and favourably reported upon by French and English war-ships on the China station. When first coal-mining operations were commenced in Hongay, there was pretty much the same description of excitement as in Calcutta followed gold prospecting in various centres three years ago. The price of shares rose from a hundred and twenty-five dollars to seven hundred and seventy-five without apparent cause, and the Avenir du Tonkin warned its readers that the enterprise, if such it might be called, would serve but to enrich some adventurous speculators. But this prediction turns out to have been erroneous. Rich seams, yielding coal of such good quality, were discovered, that the projectors laid down two substantial railways communicating with the sea. These have been completed within the past month, and a pier fitted with hydraulic cranes, constructed alongside which the steamers of the company run. The mines are now yielding five hundred tons of coal daily, and this is of excellent quality, and fetches a high price. Other beds of coal have been found and miners are being taken out from France to develop the working. Three thousand hands are now employed, and it is believed it will be shortly necessary to employ almost as many again. Those who have tried the coal declare that it produces no smoke when it is properly trimmed, deposits no clinkers, burns slowly, and being entirely consumed, leaves very little ash and fouls the tubes but slightly. The Commodore of the French fleet gives it as his opinion that the day of this coal will not have arrived until the firemen know how to use it properly, as it has simply to be put in the furnace little by little and left there without being disturbed when it will burn itself out. The consumption is declared to be approximately one-fifth less than that of Cardiff coal. The Commander of H. M. S. Porpoise pronounces the Hongay coal to be invaluable as fuel for men-of-war, being in fact a coal proper, without dust. It is gratifying to know that a supply of good coal is at last obtainable in the Far East, and mixed with a proportion of Cardiff coal it is found that its slow-burning propensities are overcome. There is, we hear, every probability of Sir Edmund Fremantle sanctioning a trial of the coal on a large scale, as it is believed it can be obtained for about half the price of the Cardiff product. The coal supplied at Bombay to vessels is frequently the subject of complaint, and it will be worth while ascertaining whether or not the Hongay mineral will withstand climatic influences better than that which is customarily stored here.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE hospitalities commence promptly. There will be a ball at Government House, Malabar Point, on Friday, Dec. 16, and on Tuesday (December 20) a reception and garden party at Parel.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 2.

The report of the Committee on Mr. Rothschild's proposals declares them to be of the greatest interest and worthy of full discussion. The Committee is composed of thirteen members, and on being questioned seven declined to recommend the proposals to their respective Governments for adoption, whilst six members assented to them.

The Committee are almost unanimously in favour of the proposal of Mr. Moritz Levy for the gradual withdrawal of gold coins under twenty francs value and small banknotes.

The report also contains declarations from the Indian, American, and Mexican delegates relative to future action.

LATER.

After a discussion, in which Sir Richard Strachey took part, the Monetary Conference adjourned the further debate on the Committee's report until Tuesday next.

Dec. 3.

The report of the Committee of the Conference comprises the statements made by the delegates during the discussion in Committee.

The American and Mexican delegates agreed that the production of silver had about reached the maximum.

The American delegate said he believed that America would cease her monthly purchases of silver if the Conference failed.

PROPOSALS RELATING TO INDIA.

Sir Guildford Molesworth said that if any bimetallic plan were adopted India would keep her mints open, and without renouncing her liberty of action would be prepared to purchase silver or permit the mintage of a quantity not less than fifty million rupees annually while the plan was operative.

During the debate on the Report of the Conference Committee, Sir Richard Strachey said that the difficulties of India were becoming real dangers and that any system generally approved by the Conference would, in the event of the creation of a gold coinage in India, be favourably regarded by the Government and every reasonable effort made to conform thereto.

Mr. Bertram Currie said he was instructed to accept nothing which would interfere with the freedom of action of India regarding its currency, and also that he could not support any proposal which was not sure to be effective in execution or involve prolonged discussion. If Mr. Rothschild's proposals had been better supported he would, he said, have submitted them to the Government of India. He concluded by affirming that the monetary system of the future should be a gold standard, even without a gold currency.

GILGIT NEWS.

Owing to the frequent breaks in the telegraph line news from Gilgit has been greatly delayed. So far as we know, however, there is no general rising among the Shemaki tribes south of Bimji, though the attack upon Captain Wallace and his party of sepoys shows that there are malcontents abroad who are anxious to give trouble.

CHITRAL AFFAIRS.

Colonel Durand, British Agent at Gilgit, has absolutely refrained from taking sides in the Chitral question.

Since the death of Afzul-ul-Mulk Nizam-ul-Mulk had come into Gilgit of his own free-will, and on this account no restraint was placed upon him when he decided to return to Yasin to try his fortune against the usurper Sher Afzul. It is impossible to calculate the chances of success at present, though the adherents of his late brother may join him as well as his own supporters.

TRIAL BY JURY IN BENGAL.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Dec. 4.

With reference to the jury question, now engaging public attention, opinion of leading counsels have been taken, and legal gentlemen are clearly of opinion that all Europeans, other than European British subjects, with all Americans, Armenians, and all not coming within the definition of European British subjects are much affected as the people of the country. By the recent Notification of the Government of Bengal the special privileges conferred on Europeans in every case triable by jurors has been rendered inoperative.

THE HYDERABAD PAMPHLET SCANDAL CASE.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

HYDERABAD, Nov. 30.

The hearing of this action was resumed this morning before Mr. O. V. Bosanquet, and in the presence of a crowded court. Mr. Rudra represented Mr. Mehdi Hassan; and Mr. Eardley Norton, the accused Mitra.

Mr. Rudra opened the proceedings by cross-examining Mahomed Akbar Khan. He said his native home was at Lucknow. His father died when witness was a year old, and he was brought up by his brother. Their house was about five hundred paces from the Donnelleys. Rufi-ud-din and Yusuf-uz-uman were boarders at the Wards' Institution and the visits to Gertrude Donnelley took place at that time, and also after they left the institute. They were fast boys and spent a lot of money. Witness was just as bad as the other boys. He saw the Donnelleys two or three times. Gertrude Donnelley was a fair girl, plump, and about the middle height. He was not sufficiently acquainted with her as to speak to her. He saw Rafi-ud-din and Yusuf-uz-uman go to the Donnelleys' house. They went very often, but witness did not go with them.

The proceedings of the day produced only one incident of note, and that was the appearance in court of Mrs. Mehdi Hassan, to be identified by defence witness. The fact had become known and the court-house was crowded. James Lauchlin, Athur Hussain, and Akbar Khan, defence witnesses, were present in court, and quite a flutter was caused by the arrival of a close carriage and pair, escorted by a number of menials dressed in sky blue livery. Mrs. Mehdi Hassan was asked to come into court, and after a few moments, of suspense, she stepped into court. She was the first to break the silence that had fallen on the court, saying: "Well, where is Lauchlin?"

Akbar Khan was in the witness-box at the time.

Mr. Norton: Will, you be good enough to turn to the witness-box, Mrs. Mehdi Hassan.

Mrs. Mehdi Hassan: Certainly.

Mr. Norton, to witness: Have you seen this lady before?—Witness: Yes.

Who is she?—She is the same Gertrude Donnelley. I know her at Lucknow. I recognize her face.

Mr. Norton: Will you take off your hat Mrs. Mehdi Hassan.

Mrs. Mehdi Hassan immediately complied.

Mr. Rudra: Will you kindly make a note, your Worship, that all the witnesses were in court at the same time, and that Mrs. Mehdi Hassan was the only lady present.

The cross-examination of Mahomed Akbar Khan continued. He said he eventually heard that Gertrude Donnelley had gone to Mehdi Hassan, and had left all her own friends. As long as witness was in Lucknow Rufi-ud-din and Yusuf-uz-uman continued their visits to the girl. It was not true that he (witness) was one of a company who associated with Gertrude Donnelley as stated in the pamphlet; he never visited her.

The Court adjourned at 5 o'clock.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT TO THE CALCUTTA MAIL.

MILITARY NEWS.

Major-General Luck was expected at Sialkote on the 2nd, where he will stay until the 11th.

An exchange of battalions has been sanctioned between Majors A R Hennell and A C M Gompertz, Hampshire Regiment; and between Captains D Carey and E A Daubeney, East Lancashire Regiment.

Captain C Y Crommelin, 1-1st Gurkhas, has been granted 3 months' leave in India on medical certificate; and Lieutenant W C Barratt, 1st Sikh Infantry, 12 months leave to England on private affairs.

The following appointments are sanctioned:—Captain K P Apthorp, Royal Irish Regiment, to be Station Staff Officer, Lucknow. 9th Bengal Infantry—Lieutenant E R R Swiney, to be Adjutant. 12th Bengal Infantry—Lieutenant T Webster, to be Quartermaster. 2-4th Gurkhas—Lieutenant H C C Ducat, to be Quartermaster.

A Bareilly correspondent writes:—The detachment of 400 Gurkhas under orders for field service in South Lushai, arrived here by special troop train from Kathgodam at 5 p.m., on the 23rd, and, headed, by their pipers, proceeded to the rest camp. The men looked very fit and ready for anything. Lieutenant Bliss, with ten rifles, left this morning in advance for Calcutta: the remainder leave on the 29th proximo, and are timed to reach Calcutta on the 3rd December, embarking the following morning on the Clive for Chittagong. The officers proceeding with the detachment are Major Pulley, Commanding, with Lieutenants Bliss, West and Tillard; Surgeon-Captain Crawford accompanies the detachment in medical charge.

The American Board appointed to select a calibre for the new magazine rifle selected for the United States Army, is reported to have adopted a ·300 calibre. This action on their part adds another cartridge to the long list now on the market. This new cartridge will be loaded with smokeless powder, and a metal-cased bullet. Much speculation having been indulged in by riflemen and military men, and others as to the wear of such bullets on the interior of rifle barrels, it is said that tests have been made with a 45 calibre Metford rifle, using steel-cased bullets, and that good shooting was obtained with them at distances of 500 and 600 yards. A steel-coated bullet weighing 570 grains, propelled with 80 grains of powder, pierced through 14 inches of solid breech wood. The shape of the bullet was changed to oval, and the friction was found so great as to melt the lead within the case. In Europe it is reported that 6,000 steel coated bullets were fired out of a Mauser rifle, and at the conclusion of the test the grooves showed but little wear.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Monetary Conference has decided in favour of Mr. Levy's proposal to withdraw gold coins of less value than twenty francs from circulation. Mr. Bertram Currie advocated the establishment of a gold standard if not a gold currency for India.

The death is reported of Mr. Jay Gould the American capitalist.

The Government of India has negatived a recommendation of the Bombay Government for the appointment of a second Roman Catholic priest to minister to the military at the Crater Position, Aden, in addition to the salaried priest at Steamer Point, on the grounds that Aden as a whole must be considered the station and the Isthmus and Crater Positions as outposts.

In the death of General Domett Morgan, the Bengal Staff Corps loses one of its oldest officers. The late General had already seen eight years' service on the outbreak of the Punjab campaign of 1848-49, and he was a Brigade-Major during a great part of the Indian Mutiny. He last saw service in the Bhutan Expedition of 1865-66. For some years General Morgan has been on the Unemployed Supernumerary List.

News has been received in Hongkong to the effect that salvage operations on the wrecked P. and O. steamer Bokhara, at the Pescadores, is being carried on with every prospect of success, one box of treasure of the value of 3,000 dollars having been recovered. The hull of the steamer appears to have collapsed and blasting operations will be necessary for the recovery of the rest of the treasure.

The result of the trial by court-martial of two sepoys for the attempted murder of Captain Keary is that Sir J. C. Dormer has directed the summary dismissal of both from the service under Article IV. of the Indian Article of War. The court found the sepoy Soda Singh not guilty. Sepoy Dhanna Singh was found guilty and sentenced to transportation for life, but Sir J. C. Dormer, owing to some legal difficulty, has been obliged to withhold confirmation of sentence.

The North China Daily News says:—"It is pointed out that the Woosung bar is largely responsible for the loss of the Bokhara. She was loaded to an even keel to cross the bar. She was an old-fashioned steamer with no after water-ballast tank, and could not therefore he brought down by the stern again after crossing the bar. This made her unmanageable in the gale that she encountered; whereas if she had been in different trim she might have been got round on the starboard tack before it was too late."

The preliminary arrangement in connection with the Tinnevelly-Quilon Railway have not yet been concluded. The promoter applied to the Secretary of State for an extention of one year's time, beginning from 1st October, 1892, to effect this, and they said the delay was due to not being able to come to exact terms with the South Indian Railway, which require them to be embodied in a formal contract. The Secretary of State referred the matter to the Government of India and the Madras Government, and the latter Government was instructed to consult the wishes of the Travancore Durbar through the resident. The resident replied that the Travancore Government was in favour of extending the concession for making arrangements for 6 months, or up to 1st April, 1893. The Secretary of State has agreed to this.

As doubts are still expressed as to whether Afghan troops accompanied Sher Afzul in his successful venture into Chitral, we may state that our news regarding the presence of only eight Afghans with the small force which overthrew Afzul-ul-Mulk is fully confirmed. The British Agent, Jamadar Rabnawaz Khan, who was in Chitrol at the time has reported to this effect.

The Bhuvas and Gounds in Keonjhar, one of the tributary mehals of Orissa, have for some months past refused to acknowledge the authority of the Raja, and have been following up their assertions of independence by raiding peaceful villages. A small force of 120 military police under Mr. A. A. Campbell, Assistant Superintendent at Ranchi, have just been railed to Chyebassa, whence they march into Keonjhar to repress the disturbance. Mr. Cooke Commissioner of Orissa, also marches into the State from Cuttack with an escort of 25 sepoys of the 17th Madras Infantry.

An unfortunate emeute on the part of the tribesmen is reported from the Gilgit Agency. It seems that Dr. Robertson, who is encamped at Gor bellow Bunji, having heard that the headman of the Tak Valley were anxious to come in and establish friendly relations, sent five sepoys on a raft down the river to meet them. The raft was fired at, whereupon Captain Wallace with a party set off to their assistance. The firing was renewed, and Captain Wallace was badly hit, in the left knee and right hand. No reason can be given for the attack, which was entirely unprovoked.

There arrived at Paoting Fu, on the 29th ult., two American bicyclists who had travelled overland from Tashkend, Russian Transcaspia. These adventurous cyclists are Messrs Allen and Sachtleben, of St. Louis, two young gentlemen who conceived the notion of going round the world, or as much of the world as possible, on bicycles. On their journey across Asia they started from Constantinople last autumn and proceeded by way of Teheran and Askabad to Merv, Bokhara and Tashkend, where they passed the winter. Leaving Taskend in May, they crossed to Kuldja, where they had to wait for some time for supplies. They left on the journey across China in midsummer by way of Urumtsi to Homi on the border the desert of Gobi. It took twelve days to cross the desert, the sand of which they found firm enough to allow them to ride most of the way. From Suhchu they followed the line of the Great Wall for 400 miles to Lanchow, travelling thence in a south-easterly direction to complete their journey across Asia at Tientsin. They rode on cushon tired "safety" bicycles and had very few accidents on the way. They took over 2,000 photographs on the way. As might be expected, they and their bicycles were objects of great wonderment to the natives along the populated portions of their route.

The Madras Mail hears on good authority that there is no truth in the rumour that has lately gained currency that six more Madras Infantry Regiments are about to be disbanded or "converted." After the recent explicit orders of the Secretary of State concerning further disbandments it is unlikely that any more will take place for a long time to come.

The Commissionership of Excise in Bengal will, on its vacation by Mr. Westmacott, be reduced to the level of a Collectorship. Dacca will be the future head-quarters of the Excise Commissioner, who will however proceed to Darjeeling during the summer months.

The transfer of the control of the Southern Lushai country from Bengal to Assam is expected to take place on April 1st, by which time it is hoped that the country will be thoroughly pacified.

According to the annual statement published by the Bengal Government about 2¾ lakhs of rupees were contributed last year by private individuals for the construction of works of public utility. This amount compares very unfavourably with the totals of previous years—3½ lakhs in 1890 and 6¼ lakhs in 1889. Sir Charles Elliott deplores this downward tendency which, he trusts, will not continue.

A Bitter cry comes from the Darjeeling Terai tea-gardens, where mosquito blight is said to have been doing so much injury that the abandonment of gardens, in which large sums of money have been sunk, begins to be talked about as by no means a far-away contingency. None of the insecticide washes that have hitherto been tried seem to have been of any practical use, and the general opinion at present appears to be that there is nothing for it but to hold on and wait for better times. Very little is yet known of the habits of the insects, beyond the fact that it multiplies very quickly and passes the whole of its existence, from egg to winged imago, upon the tea shoots. In view of the failure of other measures, it may be worth while to call attention to the gas treatment, which does not seem to have yet been tried on any considerable scale in Indian tea-gardens, though, according to the account published in a recent number of Indian Museum Notes, it has been widely adopted against insects which attack orange trees in America.

While the Government is on the search for military economics it may be worth while to bring forward a seemingly cogent suggestion sent to a contemporary by a correspondent. He writes:—"There are four heavy field batteries in India. These heavy batteries in the past have done good service, as at Bhurtpore, but the day of their usefulness has gone. They are wanting in mobility and cannot keep pace with cavalry, horse or light field artillery, as bullocks travel so slowly. A heavy battery, moreover, costs much more than either a horse, mountain, field or garrison battery. This being the case three of the four heavy batteries now maintained might be dispensed with, and a saving of eight lakhs at once effected. One heavy battery would be quite sufficient to retain against the possible but scarcely probable contingency of thick walls having to be battered down beyond the frontier of India. The annual cost of keeping up batteries approximately is:—

		Rs.
For one battery of	Horse Artillery	2,02,000
"	Light Field	1,74,000
"	Mountain	1,53,000
"	Garrison	1,00,000
"	Heavy	2,85,000

By the abolition of three of the four heavy field batteries the Government might save five lakhs of rupees annually, after obtaining an increase of one field and one mountain battery for service in India, or an extra mountain and two extra garrison batteries. This question is, I believe, deserving of the most careful consideration, as it would effect an immediate reduction in military expenditure by the 1st April next, and at the same time add materially to the offensive and defensive forces of the country. It would be interesting to know if their is any answer to this argument.

It is satisfactory to learn, on the authority of the Bengal Government, writes the Calcutta paper, that a gradual amelioration is taking place in the material condition of the peasantry of Eastern Bengal. This improvement is ascribed by the Commissioner of Dacca to the construction of the Mymensing Railway, and it does not appear to have been seriously retarded by the events of the past year. The poorer members of the middle class, and a comparatively small number of artisans, form the only sections of the population that have not shared in the general prosperity. The former have received no compensation for the high prices of food and other necessaries, while among the latter, weavers and potters are feeling the stress of competition. Earthen vessels, it is said, are now being replaced by brass; and the difficulty of competing with large manufacturers is compelling the weavers to adopt agricultural pursuits.

It is often said that one can see more neat turnouts in the carriage parade on the Red Road, Calcutta, than almost anywhere else in the world, and there is doubtless much reason for saying so. But a correspondent writes the tendency now seems to be towards gorgeousness rather than neatness. He writes:—"Ralli carts and gigs with red wheels and shafts are bearable when the bodies thereof are in sombre hues; but in Calcutta the jeunesse doree are going in largely for broad stripes of glaring colour on the latter, and the effect is bizarre, if not hideous. The fact is, I suppose, there are so many swagger turn-outs that those who wish theirs to be conspicuous can only effect their wish by drawing attention to them in this criard fashion. It is a pity, because the Red Road parade is becoming simply a circus show."

"The Madras Mail says:—We should like to know what the Presidency Port Officer means by reporting to the Government of India that he is unable to enforce the law with regard to load-lines because of the unsteadiness of vessels inside the Madras Harbour. Anybody who has boarded a ship here knows that it stands almost as steadily as it would in dock."

From the return showing the cattle destroyed by tigers and cheetahs in the Madras Presidency during the quarter ending 30th September, 1892, we learn that the total mortality caused was 1,659; comprising 525 bullocks, 609 cows, 190 calves, 113 buffaloes, 35 Sheep, 134 goats, 28 horses and ponies, 2 Csses, 21 dogs and two Pigs. Madras town shows a clean sheet; the most damage was done in South Canara and Malabar. It is noticeable that the latter district was responsible for the death of 19 out of the 21 killed of those queer "cattle known as dogs." Pork was not appreciated, except in the Gaujam and Vizagapatam. The wild beasts of Ganjam and Bellary were alone in displaying a taste for donkey flesh. Of the total of 28 horses and ponies killed no fewer than 19 are entered in Madura records.

A fresh revolution seems imminent in Chitral. It appears that the Nizam-ul-Mulk, who was Governor of Yasin when Aman-ul-Mulk died, and was driven out when Afzul made the bold stroke which won him the Mehtarship, crossed the frontier a few days ago, and is said to have been at once joined by a force of many hundreds sent by Sher Afzul to seize Yasin. He is now reported to be marching on Mastuj, and is expected to capture Chitral immediately.

Meanwhile a small force from Gilgit has arrived at Gupies, two marches beyond the frontier covering the Yasin Gilgit, and Ishkuman valleys. The object is to ensure the safety of our Agent in Chitral, to put an end to anarchy in the country by moral pressure, and to be in a position to treat with whoever is Mehtar with authority, so as to prevent an irruption of the Indus Valley tribes.

The experience of the Cawnpore agricultural station, gathered from experiments extending over a period of ten years, is that chemical manures, and the more expensive manures generally, have a less marked effect in increasing the outturn than the ordinary farmyard manures within the reach of the native agriculturist, and when the cost is taken into consideration it would appear that the profits from them are not infrequently nil. The refuse of the woollen mills has, curiously enough, been found to be a very valuable fertiliser, but next to that it seems nothing is better for ordinary crops than mixed farmyard manure.

Of all sports in this country the Evening Standard says that of rabbit-coursing would appear to be the most brutalising, and a case that has just occurred in Wales shows that it is not less so there. It is an amusement which always seems to attract concourses of the roughest of the inhabitants of the neighbouring towns. When, however, it comes to stoning a clergyman who ventures to remonstrate with fellows for removing his gate from its hinges, it must be admitted that it is high time for steps to be taken to put down such outrages with a strong hand. The Rev. David Gower, chaplain to Lady Llanover, is at present confined to his bed with his nose broken and very much disfigured by blows of stones which he received in the dastardly and unprovoked attack made upon him. Such an instance as this suggests the question whether the spread of Radicalism in Wales may not have been accompanied by an unusual outbreak of ruffianism. This must grieve those who are at present inclined to believe that Welshmen are paragons of intelligence, virtue, and patriotism.

Large cargo steamers (says a writer in a weekly journal) are now the order of the day—so large indeed that clossal is perhaps the most appropriate adjective in which to describe their proportions. Lately I recorded the launching on the Wear of a 9,000-ton steamer; now I hear that a Tyneside firm are commencing to lay down the keel of an oil steamer to measure 450 ft. in length and to have a dead-weight capacity of nearly 9,000 tons. The builders are Messrs. C. S. Swan and Hunter, of Wallsend, and the future owners of this huge vessel are Messrs. R. M. Hudson and Company, of Sunderland. Of course, in passenger steamers—Transatlantic liners for instance—this size has ceased to be uncommon; but in cargo steamers it marks a rapid development on the three, four, or five thousand tons, which have up to the present, been considered large vessels.

CRICKET.

BOMBAY GYMKHANA VS. R. N. AND R. I. MARINE.

The Bombay Gymkhana on Saturday commenced the first of a series of cricket matches, which, it is intended, shall be played in view of the approaching meeting with Lord Hawke's team towards the latter end of this month. These preparatory contests ought to revive all the ardour and interest one is accustomed to witness amongst our local cricketers during the season, and stimulate them to give a satisfactory account of their capabilities against such formidable opponents. Comparatively speaking Bombay cricketers alone are inferior to such high class exponents of cricket as Lord Hawke's team, and to save the ignominy of a complete "wipe out," which will without doubt be inflicted. Judging from their brilliant record since they landed on Indian soil in Ceylon, they would do well to accept the truth of the old saying "that to play well a man must play every day." The Parsees have never "rested upon their oars" in the face of an impending big contest, and the result, as the Bombay public will admit, invariably brought them off victorious, and justified the anticipations which their practices excited. The eleven which Mr. Gould, the Gymkhana secretary, placed in the field on Saturday was particulary strong. Captain Poore, the finest batsman in the Deccan, whose reputation as a first-class cricketer has been proclaimed by his big performances at Ganesh Khind, was amongst the "lot." Captain Cox, the other A.-D.-C. and a sterling cricketer, and Dr. Martin were amongst the eleven and amply justified their Deccan reputation. The mariners won the toss and went first in. The first three wickets went down like nine pins before the express deliveries of F. Clark. A check was, however, made when Burjorjee and Lieutenant Cave got together, and before their wickets were disturbed each contributed twenty-seven and thirty runs, respectively. Lieutenant Cave played a good game, and fully deserved the demonstration he received for his fine innings. The only other batsman who got into double figures for the seamen was Surgeon-General Cuffy, who contributed fourteen before he was dismissed. The innings closed for 103 runs. His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by Capt. Nuttall, drove up in the afternoon and was met by Colonel Rhodes, his Military Secretary. The party remained upon the ground till the conclusion of the match. When the Gymkhana commenced their innings Gould and Capt. Poore went to the wickets. The latter scored rapidly in pretty style, his strokes being clean and hard. Just as he appeared set he was run out after scoring twenty-one. Cox had a lively but short innings. His free style of play speedily put twelve to his credit, when he was fairly bowled by one of Burjorjee's breaks. Trevor played a slow game. He maintained a strong defence in the company of Dr. Martin. Both batsmen completely took the spring out of the bowling. The latter was in splendid form, and was warmly greeted for his score of twenty-one. His companion added twenty-three when he was declared 1-b.-w. The brothers Clark did some resolute hitting, and treated the trundling of their opponents with impunity. Their wickets could not be separated, and when stumps were drawn they had added thirty-two and fifteen respectively. The Gymkhana score was 149 runs for five wickets. The following are the scores:—

NOTES FROM NAGPORE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

NAGPORE, Nov. 30.

THE Chief Commissioner leaves Nagpore again to-day for camp. He proceeds to Bhandara, where (on the 7th December) he will lay the foundation-stone of the Bhandara Water-Works. Proceeding on to Raipore, he will open the "Balramdass Water-Works." Towards the construction of these water-works the Rajah of Nandgaon, Balramdass, contributed the munificent sum of two lakhs of rupees; and his name, therefore, has been very appropriately associated with the works. The Rajah is also spending another lakh-and-a-half for water-works in his own capital, Rajnandgaon. Public spirit, such as he has exhibited, deserves some recognition at the hands of Government. The Chief Commissioner will continue his journeys till February, visiting several districts of the Provinces. Mr. MacDonnell is an active, energetic administrator, determined to see everything for himself; he is never backward to praise where praise is due; nor to reproove where reproach is required. He is generally considered to be rather a stern governor, though strictly just, and anxious for the real prosperity of the general population; his ameliorating policy in the Settlement and Forest branches of administration will be highly appreciated by the agricultural classes of the provinces.

Last week Mr. MacDonnell gave an "at home" in the new Residency—henceforward to be called "Government House." There were a large number of guests present on the occasion, and the arrangements were perfect in every way. Mr. MacDonnell, though usually a reserved gentleman, is given to hospitality, and the new "Government House" has already been well accustomed to the strains of sweet music and the nimble tread of feet. On the last occasion the string band of the Bengal-Nagpore Volunteer Corps kept dancing going till midnight.

The Nagpore Gymkhana meeting occurred early last week; but was not quite up to its usual standard. These were the Bare-back Race, Sack Race, the Egg and Spoon Race, and Costume and Bandbox Races; the latter of them was very amusing: each rider had to ride to the spot allotted to him, don whatever costume was provided for him, and ride round the course; some equestrians were rigged out in ladies' dresses and bonnets, eliciting much laughter from the spectators.

Volunteers and volunteering have been very much to the front of late. You have already been informed of the presentation of a handsome silver cup to the B.-N. Railway Volunteers by their Honorary Colonel, Sir George Greaves, Commander-in-Chief of the Bombay Army. The accompaniments of the presentation, at the B.-N. Railway station, were rather imposing. There were present General Gataore, Commanding the Nagpore District, and the officers of the B.-N. Railway Corps, as well as some of the N. V. R. Corps. To give the full text of his Excellency's speech would take up too much of your space. Suffice it to say that Sir George expressed himself as very well satisfied with the smart turn-out and soldierly appearance of the Corps, on both the occasions when he inspected it. In closing he said:—"I must also remind you that, as you have volunteered to fight, I feel certain that if the occasion arises you will fight." Major Graves, who in the absence of Colonel Wynne in England, commands the B.-N. Railway Corps, replied in suitable terms to his Excellency's speech. Both the local Volunteer Corps are, I may say, in a flourishing state. Volunteering is popular here, and the institutes—where social gatherings and dances are held weekly—are becoming prominent institutions of the station. The Chief Commissioner and officers in high places generally take much interest in volunteering, and Mr. MacDonnell has presented a cup, of the value of Rs. 300, to be shot for at the coming Annual Prize Meeting, by the Nagpore Volunteer Rifles, of which Corps he is Honorary Colonel. Furthermore, the officers of the Bengal-Nagpore Corps have sanctioned a grant of Rs. 50 to each company, for getting up a Christmas Tree for the children of the Volunteers of that Corps. The N. V. R. are bestirring themselves also for a Christmas Tree for their youngsters; and the Colonel may, perhaps, sanction a grant from the funds, as the B. N. V. officers have done.

The cold-weather festivities have commenced in right earnest. Besides those already referred to a fancy ball was held last Tuesday at the Museum Buildings, which was an unqualified success. The decorations of drapery and foliage were admired, and were very creditable to the artistic taste of Mr. H. E. Coles and the other gentlemen and ladies who had charge of this part of the work. The next evening following the Fancy Ball, the "Magpie Minstrels," composed of well-known ladies and gentlemen of Nagpore, made their debut on the stage of the public rooms— songs, glees, solos, duets followed in pleasing succession: these were followed by a side-splitting farce, entitled "Old Hunkes." Considering that this is the first time the Magpie Minstrels have made their public appearance, and they have done fairly well, much greater things are expected of them in the near future.

THE EXECUTIVE ENGINEERSHIP.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—It is a great pity that in canvassing for votes for the office of the Executive Engineer to the Bombay Municipality Khan Bahadur Marzban's friends, as freely stated, have thought fit to attempt to revive the old race-question in this cosmopolitan city. If such be actually the case, it is evidently not done, I believe, with the approval, much less sanction of Mr. Marzban. He may, therefore, well exclaim and say "Save me from my friends." I think he prefers to rest his claim for the coveted post on grounds of merit alone. But there is another and a very important consideration.

We have now the Chairman of the Standing Committee, the Chief Accountant, Auditors, Assistant Engineers and Assessors, other Assistants, in and around the Engineering Department, all Parsee gentlemen. Indeed the dominant element in the Corporation itself is also Parsee. We may soon have the President of the Corporation, Executive Engineer, Health Officer, Assessor, Secretary, and Solicitors all Parsee gentlemen. In fact, rumour says, that at a future opportunity Mr. P. M. Metha and Mr. D. Wacha will be made Municipal Commissioner and Secretary to the Corporation Committee respectively. What is to prevent? We must, I opine, be prepared for this change, at no distant date, so long as Municipal interests, public weal, and Parsee advancement do not materially diverge. The time to subordinate weighty considerations to class interest is long gone by in spite of the strenuous efforts and the sound sense of a portion of the Parsee community.—Yours, &c.,

FOREST RULES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I desire to draw attention to two letters which have appeared in the November number of the Indian Forester, one signed "Professional Operator" and the other "Punjabi." These letters were written in response to the publication in extenso in that journal of the Government Resolution 7107 of 6th September, 1892, and I extract the following lines from that of "Professional Operator" in order to show how the rules they refer to work:—

"The principles adopted by other Governments than that of Bombay are briefly that the Chief District Officer is responsible for the management of the forests in his district, the Divisional Forest Officer being his assistant in executive matters; that the entire control of finance and establishment rests with the Conservator, who further addresses all recommendations for the working of the forests, through the revenue officers for an expression of opinion, direct to the Local Government; in short that the Divisional Forest Officer should not be exposed to interference from the departments, but under the Collector's orders and supervision carry out the instructions of the Conservator.

"The regulations issued on this subject by different Governments must of course vary in detail, but they agree in maintaining the authority of the Conservator, in permitting a proper amount of patronage, of making him the representative of forest interests and enabling him to present his opinion and advice on forest matters to the Local Government, whilst they lay the responsibility of the finance of the circle entirely on the Chief Forest Officer. . . Let us now consider the principles adopted and the regulations issued by the Government of Bombay in the above quoted notification. . . A careful search fails to show that the Forest Officer is empowered to do anything, but carry out the orders of the Collector, whilst a Conservator may not refer to Government save on questions of finance and establishment in the case where he disagrees with a Collector. The regulations may conveniently be divided into three heads: I. teaching of the duties and positions of forest officers; II. treating of the duties of other civil officers; and III. in which the duties and position of Commissioners of Civil Divisions are prescribed. Head I. opens with the declaration that Forest Administration is a branch of Land Revenue Administration and proceeds to place the management of the State Forests in the hands of the Collector, the Conservator only retaining the direction of "professional operations of technical forestry" and subject to the sanction of the Local Government departmental finance and control of Forest Officers. Entire control and patronage of the subordinate establishment is placed in the hands of the collector, the question of local supply of produce and of rights and privileges is removed not only from the control but from the cognizance of the Forest Officer. Correspondence between Conservators and Forest and District Officers is regulated, and the revision by the Collector of the Conservator's orders to his subordinates is provided for, the Collector is empowered to deal with yearly plans of operations, but he is only obliged to forward to the Conservator copies of such plans as may have met with his approval.

"Under Head II. the inspection of Range Officers by Revenue Officers and the procedure to be adopted in correspondence is regulated; the method to be adopted in exploiting compartments is detailed, and the powers of head constables and other civil officers in the inspection of forests is prescribed.

"Head III. gives unlimited power to Commissioners, who may interpret Government orders, settle all departmental differences of opinion, and refer to Government, or decide as they think fit on reports on forest matters submitted to them.

The first thing that strikes the reader in these rules is that the Conservator except in the direction of professional operations of technical forestry (one feels that the phrase cannot be too often repeated) or in question of departmental finance has no voice whatever in the local management of his forests; he is indeed invested with the departmental control of Forest Officers, but as he can appoint or post no one and can issue no orders without the approval of the Collector, this part of his duties would not interfere with his leisure, while as to the working of the forests of his circle, he can read the plans of operations approved by the Collector and leave that official to carry them out. A further study of the rules inclines the reader to the opinion that not only is there no need for Conservators"—Government have already taken two steps towards the exceptions of this opinion—"but also that Divisional Forest Officers are not a necessity in the forest under the Government of Bombay. The Collector arranges all forest matters, sometimes with and sometimes without the knowledge of his district forest offices, who moreover may not correspond directly with their superior officer. The inspection of Range officers is carried out by subordinate revenue officials, whilst foresters and forest guards may be officially inspected by all and sundry from a constable upwards. It appears almost superfluous to retain a special forest officer to add to the pile of information collected by subordinates of other departments who presumably forward their reports through their immediate superiors to the Collector. It is presumable that all the forests of the Bombay Presidency are not yet under the prescription of duly sanctioned working plans, so that a small number of Forest Officers have still some reason for existence under that Government. In any case the provision of Rule 22 will no doubt act as a spur to Conservators in the matter of keeping their fellings up to date, for any delay in carrying out these "professional operations of technical forestry" may be speedily avenged by amateur operations. It seems somewhat severe that necessary delay in felling operations should by any possibility result in the sudden withdrawal at the expense of the forest, of scientific management."

The above extracts explain clearly the force and scope of the rules, and will I think convince people that the present policy of the Bombay Government is to suppress the Forest Department, to muzzle its officers, and to exalt the Civilian. In defiance of scriptural authority that the thing is impossible, the wretched forest officer is to serve two masters to worship the Collector as his god, and his Conservator as mammon. For the Conservator is to continue to be made to grind out from the forests all the money he can, and has to find funds to pay his officers. "Punjabi's" letter tackles the rules in a different matter. The Government of Bombay in its eagerness to place its rules under the ægis of the Forest Act have omitted to notice one curious effect of their action, which is that officers breaking any of the rules shall be punished with fine and imprisonment (vide Act) "Punjabi" shows the effect fully as follows:—

"The rules purport to have been issued under Sec. 75 of Act III. of 1878, and breaches of the regulations are it is inferred punishable, under Section 76, which allow of imprisonment for one month or a fine not exceeding Rs. 500 or both. Accordingly if for example the Collector does not from time to time inspect all the Range Offices of his district; or if compartments of a forest block are not felled in regular rotation; or if the local Forest Officer does not inform the Collector of places where cuttings are to be made; or if a police officer does not, on examining a forest guard's diary write the word "seen" with his initials after the last entry, or calls a guard off his beat; or if the forest guard fails to submit to his Collector between the 30th June and the 15th July the plan of operations, then shall the culpable parties be criminally prosecuted and punished. The legislature in its wisdom has mercifully abstained from providing that in offences of this nature double penalties may be inflicted when the offence is committed at night or after preparation for resistance to authority: or even when a previous conviction for a like offence has been obtained. But the prospect is sufficiently serious as it is, and the only crumb of comfort is that Commissioners themselves are liable to incarceration or fine or to both for breaches of Rule 28. The Bombay Government, true to its motto, has been the first to give effect to Section 75 in this manner, but it may be hoped that its example will not be vastly followed by other administrations. "Punjabi" winds up his letter with the following observation, with this opinion expressed in which many people on this side may possibly agree:—"It will probably be found that the rules have no legal sanction whatsoever. Except in this preamble (which itself curiously misrepresents the scope of the orders) no section of the first Act is mentioned. The rules do not appear to be rules under the Act at all, but administrative orders of the Local Government, and should have been issued merely as such. The blunder, if blunder it be, is probably unique in the annals of Forest Administration in India."

The point remains to be considered, and regarding which the orders of Government may with advantage be issued—whether the submission by an officer of one month's imprisonment would entail breach of service or dismissal or compulsory retirement? If not, will it count towards furlough?—Yours, &c.,

MICAWBER.

A BALLOON ascent, promising to be of much interest, was made quite recently in Paris by M. Mallet, an able aeronaut, who went up by night from Saumur, and in twelve hours travelled 74 miles. He was instructed to follow an eastern direction as far as possible and to notice the inflections caused in the current by the depressions reported in Central Europe. A number of letters from Mullet have been picked up by peasants in the fields near Chalons. These have since reached Paris, thus showing that he had gone about ninety miles east without any sensible deviation.

SIR AUCKLAND COLVIN AND CAPTAIN HEARSEY.

THE following is the information laid in the Court of Mr. R. H. Brereton, C. S., Magistrate of Benares:—

That on the 18th day of November, 1892, on the occasion of the opening of the Water-works in Benares by Sir Auckland Colvin—he, the accused, did, with malice aforethought, publicly utter certain untrue, slanderous and defamatory words and expressions against the complainant, Captain Andrew William Hearsey—such words so uttered by the accused being likely and liable to hurt the feelings and reputation of the complainant and cause him to commit a breach of the peace.

2. That words so uttered by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, on the 18th day of November were as follows: "Gentlemen, there is a class of men of whom he was a type, who make their business to fish in troubled waters; they bring no qualifications to their task beyond an unparalleled assurance, a brazen insolence. Only two days ago I received a telegram from a man of this class." Such words so uttered by the accused implying that the complainant was proverbially of an insolent character and disposition and therefore of an ungentlemanly nature, and therefore of such a character and disposition as no respectable person should associate with, and for that reason be expelled from society; such statement so made by the accused being false, malicious and slanderous, and so made by the accused for the sole purpose of injuring the complainant's reputation and causing him to commit a breach of the peace.

3. That the words so uttered by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, on the 18th day of November were: "Gentlemen, there is a class of men of whom he was a type, who make it their business to fish in troubled waters; they bring no qualifications to their task beyond a vocabulary picked up from the gutter. Only two days ago I received a telegram from a man of this class." Such words so uttered by the accused implying that the complainant was a low, vulgar, uneducated individual, ignorant even of his mother tongue, and therefore of such birth and education and of such an ungentlemanly manner of speaking that no respectable person should associate with him, and for which reason he should be ostracised from all good society—such statement so made by the accused being false, malicious and slanderous, and so made by him for the sole purpose of injuring the complainant's reputation and hus causing him to commit a breach of the peace.

4. That the words so uttered by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, on the 18th day of November with regard to the complainant were "Now gentlemen that man is, I understand, engaged in congenial occupations here in Benares, and let me warn those whom he would make dupes." Such words so uttered by the accused imply that the complainant is a common cheat in the habit of duping people—such statement so made by the accused being false, malicious and slanderous, and so made by him for the sole purpose of insulting the complainant and injuring his reputation and credit and thus cause him to commit a breach of the peace.

5. That the words so uttered by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, on the 18th day of November with regard to the complainant were: "So surely as his intemperate counsels, his appeals to your most inflammable emotions and his reckless disregard of facts, probabilities or certainties will bring you ultimately into conflict with the Magistrate." Such words so uttered by the accused implying that the complainant was in the habit of advising sundry and certain of the Queen-Empress's subjects in this country to commit such acts of violence and treason as would render them liable to a criminal prosecution—such statement so made by the accused being false, malicious and slanderous, and so made by him for the purpose of injuring the complainant's character with every loyal subject, especially with Government officials.

6. That the words so uttered by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, on the 18th day of November with regard to the complainant were: "So surely as his intemperate counsels, his appeals to your most inflammable emotions and his reckless disregard of facts, probabilities or certainties will bring you ultimately into conflict with the Magistrate—so surely when he has led you there, will he abandon you." Such words so uttered by the accused implying that the complainant was a miserable and despicable coward, one who would urge others to their ruin and then desert them and not raise a finger to help them when so circumstanced—such statements so made by the accused being false, malicious and slanderous, and so made by him for the sole purpose of injuring the complainant's character by causing him to appear utterly despicable in the eyes of every one and thus incite him to commit a breach of the peace.

7. That the words so uttered by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, on the 18th day of November with regard to the complainant were: "So surely as his intemperate counsels, his appeals to your most inflammable emotions and his reckless disregard of facts, probabilities or certainties will bring you ultimately into conflict with the Magistrate—so surely when he has led you there, will he abandon you, making off with the proceeds of his enterprise." Such words so uttered by the accused implying that the complainant would be guilty of a breach of trust by making off with monies entrusted to him for a certain definite purpose for his own personal necessities—such statement so made by the accused being false, malicious and slanderous, and so made by him for the sole purpose of injuring complainant's character and likewise for the purpose of injuring his credit, and thus make him contemptible in the eyes of the world, and by so doing incite him to commit a breach of the peace.

8. That the words so uttered by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, on the 18th day of November with regard to the complainant were: "But as you value your liberty, your reputation and your safety avoid like poison the stirrer up of grievances." Such words so uttered by the accused imply that the complainant was in the habit of stirring up grievances that is searching out for grievances or manufacturing wrongs and by being disloyal himself causing Her Majesty the Queen-Empress's subjects to be disaffected towards her Government and so lead them into acts of violence and treason—such statement so made by the accused being false, malicious and slanderous, and so made by him for the sole purpose of injuring the complainant's reputation, especially with Government officials, by leading them to believe, he, the complainant, was disloyal and by so insulting him cause him to commit a breach of the peace.

9. That the words so uttered by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, on the 18th day of November with regard to the complainant were: "But as you value your liberty, your reputation and your safety avoid like poison the professional agitator." Such words so uttered by the accused imply that the complainant gains a livelihood by sowing disaffection and by inciting sundry of the Queen-Empress's subjects in this country to be disaffected and disloval—such statement so made by the accused being false, malicious and slanderous, and so made by him for the sole purpose of injuring the complainant's reputation and credit, especially with Government officials, by leading them to believe, he, the complainant, was disloyal and by thus insulting him cause a breach of the peace.

10. That although during his speech of the 18th of November Sir Auckland Colvin, the accused, did not have the manliness or courage, when he so grossly and maliciously defamed the complainant, to mention his (the complainant's) name, yet his speech contained quite enough material to enable a great number of those present to arrive at a correct knowledge that he, the accused, alluded to the complainant, but he, the accused, appears to have been under the conviction that his cowardly and underhand omission would protect him from the action of the criminal law.

11. That although the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, did not actually mention the complainant's name in his speech of the 18th of November, yet he was guilty of gross and malicious slander and defamation in that he did mention the complainant's name to Mr. Brereton and did authorize his official subordinate, Mr. Brereton, to mention the name of the complainant to all such as desired to know it—; as on the date and place in question the accused publicly said: "I will not mention his name here, but Mr. Brereton, the Magistrate, has my authority to mention his name;" such authorization to publish and make known the complainant's name amounts to defamation equally as if the accused had, during his speech, made mention of it.

12. That such conduct as explained in the foregoing paragraphs committed by the accused, Sir Auckland Colvin, constitutes the criminal offences as defined in Section 499 and 504 of Act XLV of 1860. (The Indian Penal Code).

13. That such being the case your petitioner, the complainant, most humbly prays that your Honourable Court will issue a warrant against the accused, the said Sir Auckland Colvin, in accordance with the provisions as laid down in the Code of Criminal Procedure.

And the complainant, your petitioner, as in duty bound, &c., &c.,

A. W. HEARSEY, Captn.,
Late H. M.'s Service.

BENARES.—November 29th, 1892.

* Vizianund.

This application was refused by the Magistrate who would not grant the warrant and, did not even take Captain Hearsey's deposition on oath.

AN addition to the literature of the frogs of India appears in the current number of the proceedings of the London Zoological Society, where Mr. W. L. Sclater describes some new species from the collections of the Calcutta Museum. Most people are under the impression, observes a contemporary, in spite of the confusion of frog tongues which goes on so perpetually in the rains, that there are only about half a dozen varieties of these creatures in India. Mr. Sclater, however, makes out that though there are already one hundred and three Indian species in the Calcutta Museum, the collection still lacks some forty kinds of frogs which are known to embellish the land.

ST. ANDREW'S DINNER AT CALCUTTA.

AT St Andrew's dinner, held in the Calcutta Town Hall on the 30th ult., there was the largest gathering on record. Mr. David Lyall presided. The Lieutenant-Governor, as the guest of the evening, was received on arrival by the Stewards. The new Scottish Company of Volunteers lined the entrance to the hall and staircase, making a brave show in their handsome kilted uniforms. Pipe music was rendered by two pipers of the Scottish Rifles. The Buffs' band was also in attendance.

On the conclusion of dinner, the Chairman proposed the usual loyal toasts.

The Chairman, in proposing "The Queen-Empress," said that Her Majesty had been a model to her subjects of all that a woman should be, whether as maid, wife, or mother and, above all, she stood out, and will stand out, in history, as the model of a constitutional Queen. Continuing, he said: Her knowledge of European and foreign politics is unrivalled, and it would be a good thing for the nation if she could constitutionally assume the portfolio of the Minister for Foreign Affairs. Thoroughly as we all trust men like Lord Salisbury or Lord Rosebery, we cannot but feel that, with each change of Ministry, there must be more or less of an interruption of policy, and we look to the Queen's good sense and vast experience to guide and assist her Ministers and thus minimise the danger of such changes to the Empire. Should it be her misfortune, towards the end of her long and illustrious reign, to have to decide on the line she will take in the event of the passing of a Bill which many of us look on as likely to lead to the disintegration of the Empires, we feel sure that even in that difficult position she will do her duty, and that whatever course she may decide to take in such an emergency, she will act consistently with her previous life, and will adopt the policy best calculated for the good of her Empire.

The Chairman then read telegrams received from various towns, and also one from Lord Roberts, regretting his absence.

Mr. Allan Arthur proposed the "Navy, Army and Reserve Forces" in a spirited speech, in which he dwelt upon the full confidence reposed in Lord Roberts and the military authorities in providing for the defence of the North-West Frontier.

General Lance responded.

The Rev. A. Ferrier gave "The Pious Memory of St. Andrew"; Mr. Thomas Lang "The Lassies," replied to by Mr Eric Chapman. The Croupier, Mr. John Clarke, proposed "The Land O'Cakes" in vigorous and well-chosen language, which excited much enthusiasm. Surgeon-Major R. D. Murray gave "Our Guests" coupled with the name of the Lieutenant-Governor.

What I think is specially valuable in such a meeting as this is the impulse it gives to the revival of friendships, and the encouragement of toleration, and the mutual bringing together of the different classes of society, officials and non-officials, residents of Calcutta and residents of the Mofussil; and I have always found that such occasions lead to the softening of asperities and the growth of sympathy. Speaking from an official point of view, I have always felt how desirable it is that the members of the Government and members of the unofficial world should see and know more of each other, and if they had more opportunities of understanding each other's aims and intentions and difficulties, many mistakes and slight causes of friction would be removed. In English public life such opportunities present themselves continually. In India they are almost entirely absent, and this St. Andrew's dinner is one exceptional instance of a social gathering of which the Viceroy has from time to time availed himself, to disclose and explain his policy. There is no Government in the world which has so little to conceal and so much to gain from publicity, and from being properly understood, as the Indian Government, and I rejoice to think that the enlargement of the Indian Councils which will shortly take effect must lead to a wider representation of the varied interests in every province, and will give opportunities for asking questions and giving explanations as to matters in which the public is concerned, which will, I am convinced, lead to greater solidarity and confidence between all classes of society. Sir Charles Elliott concluded by proposing the health of the Chairman, which was drunk with musical honours.

The Chairman replied, and gave the health of the Stewards and the Secretaries. Mr. C. A. Smith and Mr. Ormiston responded.

The Chairman proposed "The Land we Live in."

In the course of his speech he said:—

Looking back over the 31 years that have elapsed since I first sat in this Hall taking part in a St. Andrew's Dinner, I cannot help contrasting the land we lived in then with the land we live in now. It was an easier going land then, with only a fortnightly mail home, and no telegraph, and with very much less competition than there is to-day. In those days we not unfrequently heard of merchants going home with fortunes, and many retired with a competency. The Pagoda tree had not then been cut down, and carted away, root and branch, and if there were fewer comforts, and an occasional ice famine when the Tudor Company's ice ship failed to come in time, still life was, on the whole, easier; even though the railway did not extend beyond Rajmahal, and all travelling beyond there had to be done by boat or palki, or dakghari, and places now within twenty-four hours of Calcutta were then at ten days' distance. This increase of the means of locomotion is the greatest change of all, and has saved many lives, by allowing a rapid change to Europe or the hills. On an occasion like this I should not be justified in omitting to touch on the burning subject of the day, the Currency Question, but in doing so I feel very much in the position of the old man and his donkey in the fable. If I take the Currency Memorial as my text, I run foul of the firms who signed the counterblast. If I accept the counter-blast, I am left with no text at all to discourse on. If I accept the views of that good Scotsman, Hugh Bell, and the eighteen Darjeeling planters who form his "tail," I should tell you that the thing to be most wished for is not the vanishing, but the vanished rupee; and I see in my mind's eye these eighteen planters on their Himalayan heights having attained a sort of Nirvana, happy in the fact that the rupee had gone down to nothing at all, and surrounded by the riches amassed by selling their tea at this remunerative rate. Under such circumstances, gentlemen, I am, as it were, compelled to give my own views for what they are worth, and first I would say that on one point there is an almost absolute consensus, and that whatever has been said regarding the merits or demerits of a high or a low rate of exchange, all are agreed that an unstable rate of exchange is bad. In all mercantile transactions there must be something of gambling, but when, in addition to the ordinary fluctuation of the market which it is the business of the merchant to foresee, there is added an unstable exchange, subject to laws over which he has no control, then I say there is a imported into otherwise sound mercantile transactions an element of uncertainty which causes such business to become more or less gambling. I would, therefore, ask all those who have the welfare of the country at heart to throw aside all minor differences regarding the comparative merits of a high or a low exchange, and to work for the common cause of the establishment of a non-fluctuating currency. Until this has been done we c

"Gentlemen,
"The two bottles of Edwards' "Harlene" last supplied have worked wonders within the short period of a fortnight. For the past eight years I have been losing my hair in such abundance that the crown of my head became actually bald as my present comparatively early age of 32. To my relief, I am happy to state now that my "bald pate" has been partially covered, and my hair has assumed a fine dark colour. You are at perfect liberty to make use of this testimonial.

Peter Möller's Cod Liver Oil is obtaining more favour with the Public and increased reputation amongst the Medical Profession, day by day.

MÖLLER'S COD LIVER OIL. (BY PATENTED PROCESS.)

In the years 1851-1853, considerable attention was called to Cod Liver Oil; but its use was restricted in consequence of the crude method of its production; which gave a turbid, brownish, uncanny preparation, nauseous to the palate, and sometimes impossible of digestion.

Since then the introduction by Peter Möller of a new application of steam, conducted under his own personal supervision, has secured the utmost cleanliness in every detail of the manufacture, and the Public have been able to obtain a pure, sweet, reliable, and digestible Oil, when they insisted upon having Möller's—well, if they did not insist that was not Möller's fault.

MÖLLER'S COD LIVER OIL. (BY PATENTED PROCESS.)

In forty years Möller made many improvements; All the so-called substitutes were carefully examined and analyzed, emulsions and mixtures, tinctures and essences, the bases of which were everything nearly —except Cod Liver Oil; and in the majority of cases no more expensive article than water (Aqua Pura).

MÖLLER'S COD LIVER OIL. (BY PATENTED PROCESS.)

With these investigations it became more and more evident to Dr. Möller (who continued the researches of his father) that the "Active principle of Cod Liver Oil is in the Oil itself," and not as some chemists supposed in the "remaining five per cent." after separation of the ninety-five per cent. of fat and fat-acids (so called).

Impressed also with the fact that, excellent as his Oil was, there yet remained something to be accomplished, before perfection could be claimed: in fact so Oil had ever been made which presented the extremely delicate and pleasant flavour of the Oil as it is found in the freshly boiled livers, therefore.—

MÖLLER'S COD LIVER OIL. (BY PATENTED PROCESS.)

Important laboratory extensions were added, with every modern appliance for chemical investigation, and the exhaustive experiments of some ten years being prosecuted with renewed vigour, finally gained reward in full measure. The practical outcome is an entirely new process, producing a totally different Cod Liver Oil, lighter in colour, more limpid, wholly free from the taste, the "oily taste," and the odour of even the better kinds of Oil, and SUITED TO THE MOST DELICATE STOMACH.

MÖLLER'S COD LIVER OIL. (BY PATENTED PROCESS.)

This Oil is now in every good Chemist's shop, and although considerable outlay has been incurred in chemical research, and in obtaining patents, the prices have not been advanced. All bottles are capsuled and bear the trade mark and perforated date as formerly. In case of difficulty or dissatisfaction write to Peter Möller, 43, Snow Hill, London, E.C.
